

LILLEANN

LAUGHS. LOVES. LIFE.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 16, 2008

Keith Lissner/The Pink Agenda Cocktail Party

There is nothing like mixing fashion with a good cause. It makes you feel less guilty about your frivolousness by being able to give back, even if that means you have to sip on delicious girly pink cocktails and mingle with beautiful boys naming names (Alexander McQueen, Cavalli, Dior, Goyard). Even funner still when the designer himself plops down on the couch next to you to gush about his hopes and dreams for the world of fashion and how he's going to change it all up in the future. He is adorable!

All sipping aside, the cocktail party at the Royalton was also collaborated with The Pink Agenda. It's purpose is to raise money and bring awareness to women between 25 - 35 a.k.a. "our generation." Being in your 20's, you think you're impervious to so many things, but it's a great time to be more aware of your own health and body. What an amazing cause!! See? I am already more aware.

POSTED BY LILLEE AT 8:41 PM

0 COMMENTS:

Post a Comment

Newer Post

Home

Older Post

Subscribe to: Post Comments \(Atom\)

BLOG ARCHIVE

▶ 2009 \(1\)

▼ 2008 \(11\)

▶ October \(2\)

▶ August \(4\)

▼ July \(5\)

2AM Club - until 4am

[Keith Lissner/The Pink Agenda
Cocktail Party](#)

Today's Weakness

Burned again.

Turning over a new leaf

ABOUT ME

LILLEE

Commonly known as having "every girls dream job," and truthfully, I must concur!

VIEW MY COMPLETE PROFILE